WHAT YOU NEED

- Pre-made gingerbread men
- Icing pens
- Sweets
- Sprinkles to decorate

We can trace all the food we have back to God's creation. Such as chips; chips come from potatoes, which come from the seeds that are planted in the ground and God has enabled the farmers to plant and harvest the potatoes to send to the shops for us to buy and make chips.

This activity promotes creativity and encourages the young people to think about where their food comes from, God's creation and giving thanks to God for the amazing food He has given us, while at the same time appreciating how He has made us. He put as much time creating us as He has made the earth, we are very special to God. Encourage the young people to decorate the gingerbread man as themselves and to talk about what makes them great inside and out, just as the gingerbread man looks fun but tastes sweet.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Pass out the gingerbread biscuits and talk about where our food comes from.
2. Talk about creation and how God has created us in His own image and has amazing things planned for us.
3. Encourage the young people to decorate their biscuits to make the biscuit look like themselves.
4. When finished they can take them home or eat them together.
